"Over and over again We have said that there is nothing dearer to Our Heart than the spread of The Kingdom of Christ and the promotion of universal love and reverence for Him in the social life of mankind. Now since Society is composed of families, what more efficacious means for speedily and solidly establishing the reign of Christ among men can be found than the Consecration of Families to the Sacred Heart?"

Benedict XV.

DEDICATION

To you, our Mothers and Dads who made home for us a place which gives joy to the Sacred Heart, we dedicate our yearbook. May the Sacred Heart—our dearest Friend —be always the center of our home,—to bless our enterprises, to dispel our cares, to sanctify our joys, to alleviate our sufferings.

"Heart of Jesus burning with love for us, inflame our hearts with love for You."

FOREWORD

St. Ignatius Loyola, himself thoroughly consecrated to the Sacred Heart of Jesus, once said to St. Francis Xavier, "Go, set the world on fire." That fire was the undying flame of love for Christ.

One of the ultimate aims of Loyola Academy is to set on fire with that same eternal love the souls and bodies of her sons. She daily strives, through her teachers, doctrine and atmosphere, to make her students devoted to the "Heart which has so loved men, has spared nothing, even to suffering and death, to show them its love."

When Loyola's boys have become personal, faithful friends of the Sacred Heart, they will inevitably attract their own future families to that same love. It also follows that the love of our city or nation for the Sacred Heart will be in direct proportion to the love of our families for the eternally amiable Heart of Christ.

If we students truly become such Apostles of the Sacred Heart, in us will be verified the eleventh promise of our Lord to St. Margaret Mary: "Those who shall promote this devotion shall have their names written in My Heart, never to be blotted out."

"I will give to priests the power of touching the most hardened hearts."

THE FACULTY

Following in the footsteps of their brother-Jesuit and the Apostle of the Sacred Heart—Blessed Claude de la Colombiere—our teachers have learned from the Sacred Heart how to urge on our youthful souls to aims, ideals most high. Men of zeal and men of prayer, they gave all the world to win our souls to love our Lord.

For the nobility of life to which they inspired us, for the intellectual training, built on their four hundred year old system, for the opportunities for developing our bodies, we are grateful. In the following pages we present our faculty of priests, scholastics and laymen.

A MESSAGE TO THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1944

The 1944 Graduation Issue of the Loyola Prep is dedicated to the family. Its theme is the Sacred Heart. There could be no more appropriate theme than this, no more fitting and timely dedication.

The family is the basic unit of society. Upon its security depends the security of the nation. The Holy Father stressed this in a radio address on the occasion of his episcopal silver jubilee when he said: "The family is sacred; it is the cradle not only of children but also of the nation, of its force and glory. Do not let the family," he exhorted, "be alienated or diverted from the high purpose assigned to it by God." What more effective means to prevent this than to establish the sovereign rule of the Sacred Heart over the family? The Sacred Heart is the symbol of Christ's love for men. And love modeled on the divine pattern will alone preserve inviolate the sacred shrine of the family.

Today is the hour of devastation. Tomorrow will be the period of restoration and youth's opportunity. You are prepared, I feel confident, to meet the challenge. Be true to your faith. Take your stand firmly on the eternal grounds of right and wrong. Battle valiantly for the right. Always remember that the principles of Christian morality provide the only solid foundation for the security of the family and the nation. Graduates of today, fathers of tomorrow, may you always be alive to your responsibilities.

Joseph M. Egan, S.J.

REVEREND ARA F. WALKER, S. J.

Principal

When in many cases the hope of graduating was tottering and when in all cases we grew restless under the abnormal pressure of the times, we needed a fatherly guide. We found him in Father Walker. By a specially arranged course he enabled twenty-seven seniors to finish high school before they became eligible for compulsory military training. By his insistence on principles of earnest effort he trained us not only for war, but more important for the peace to come. With the hope of making us militant Catholics in the nation's army and in Christ's, he gave us ample direction and time. We are sincerely indebted to Father Walker for his personal interest in each one of us. In addition to this work, Father Walker was moderator of the Mothers' Club and taught religion to the third year accelerated class.

REVEREND FRANCIS B. MURPHY, S. J.

Assistant Principal

Father Murphy came to Loyola this year from St. Stanislaus Tertianship. His is the thankless job of teaching us self-control, respect for law, and obedience.

In other words, he is our disciplinarian. We welcome Father Murphy to Loyola.

REVEREND PAUL W. CAVANAUGH, S. J.

Student Counsellor and Religion Teacher

In a Jesuit school one of the most important and far-reaching offices is that of Student Counsellor. At Loyola that responsible position is Father Cavanaugh's. It is his privilege to enter into the problems and perplexities of young men, to understand and sympathize, to guide and inspire. In April he left Loyola to enter the service of our country as a Chaplain.

THE SENIORS

Though we seniors now walk into a world whose very foundations are threatened by hate and greed, disorder and destruction, we feel confident. Because our Jesuit training unites inseparably the will with the mind in the process of education, we possess more than an array of facts; we have a will trained to live according to principle. And the principles we have been taught to make our own are those of Christ Himself.

We thank our faculty for the deep interest they have shown and assure them that, in "tomorrow's period of restoration," we will accept "youth's responsibility."

A reading room in the library

Though Jesuit educators are hesitant to accept any false principles of modern education, they are leaders in adopting solid and apt methods of training,—methods which involve no sacrifice of true principles and which are practical means to the end of Catholic education.

It was with such a spirit that Loyola accelerated her program for those who could not otherwise have had time to complete their four years of high school. By their attending class during the summer, the following seniors were able to graduate with a fully accredited diploma on February 7.

SCHNIEDWIND, ROBERT F.—First Honors 4; Second Honors 1, 2; Class Officer: President 4; Secretary 2; Prep 3, 4; Sports Editor 4; Acolytes 1, 2, 3, 4; Sodality 1, 2; Dance Committee 4; Torch Club 2, 3; Secretary 4; Track 1, 2; Winner of City Relay, 880 yards, 2; C.A.A.N. Relay Champions 2.

ROCHE, JOHN K.—First Honors 1, 2, 4; Second Honors 3; Class Officer: Vice-President 2, 4; Dramatics 4; Acolytes 1; Dance Committee 4; Torch Club 2, 3, 4; Sodality 1; Football 1, 3, 4; Track 2, 3: 880 yard State Champion Relay Team, Winner of City Relay, 880 yards; Communion Club 1, 2.

HALAS, GEORGE S.—First Honors 4; Second Honors 3; Class Officer: Vice-President 1; Secretary 3, 4; Sodality 1.

Father Finnegan, S.J., presents the written record of achievement, the diploma.

Father John L. Bonn, S.J., noted author and Navy Chaplain, was the principal speaker for the graduating class.

AHERN, JAMES J.—Second Honors 1, 2, 3, 4;
Fine Arts Club 2, 3; Sodality 1, 2, 3.

BARTZEN, JAMES R.

BURNS, JAMES K.—Dance Committee 4; So-

UNDERCLASSES

In the pages that follow we present today's Youth, tomorrow's Men. Though the underclassmen are now at various stages of their training, they will all one day enter a world that will challenge them to live as though it does profit a man to gain the whole world and to lose his soul.

Our Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshmen are being trained to meet that challenge. Their intellects are being guided to distinguish the true hierarchy of values from the many false ones; their wills are being disciplined to love and to live according to that true hierarchy. If they submit to the process of education by which they are being formed, they need never fear any challenge that a pagan world may offer.

Ridley is a swimmer. Loyola has yet to see the day when Dick Garrity will fail to take class honors. Garrity keeps 3A rocking with his wit. Wherever you find the Band you'll find VonKaenal. Schultz is a mountain of muscular might. McCarthy and Scahill lent their talents to the Loyola Lights. The football team would be lost without Rollings. Where would 3A's mission collection be without Cagney. Wood may be funny but he knows his Latin. It's too bad Campion didn't come to Chicago sooner. Quote Bridwell, "Yeah, Mr. Connelly's pretty good at math, too." Thale is the answer man in Greek. Ferrarini proves that good things come in little packages. Futterer is one of Loyola's faithful acolytes. Alan McCarthy and Murphy are genial Irishmen. If questions were money Guderyhan would be rich. Jozwiak and McKeough earned major letters in football this year. Reynolds finds time to pilot the I-M Basketball team. That inevitable crew cut belongs to Anger. Kelly is in his own third term as class president at Loyola. Munitions are being studied by Dimmick in preparation for blowing up the school. Football, baseball, or pool, it doesn't matter to Goodrich, he's good at them all. McMurray is the "casanova" of the suberbs. Rand, McNally has a place for Reading's Greek maps. No answer seems to satisfy Hartnett. Kemper is an ace on the tennis team. Jones is the "noise from Winnetka." Corr knows his French, no question about it. One of Sid Gordon's contemporaries is Isaacson. Cannon is the president of the brains department. A typical question: Where did Healy get those shoes? Theisen is an up and coming boxer.

Schnetzer is a man who is usually there with the right answer. The class contributed many members to the band among whom are Wolf, Tobin, Stacy, McElroy, and Gauer. Byrne always knows the answers except in tests. Grego with his wise remarks in Mr. Carey's study period caused many a jug. Mackey and Maurer are star players on Loyola's Lightweight squad. Floto is known for his quips. If you want to know about a book, ask Stoll. Schubert loves to play handball. Marmitt enjoys a good basketball game. Ahern is an athletic fellow. A chap with a perverted sense of humor is Hostert. Schnitzius: first string on all intra-mural teams. Austgen is a fiend for golf. Hayes does a lot of swimming. Gallagher's mission collections are as bad as Morgenthau's March 15's. Bucal is a wide-awake fellow in chemistry. The class essayist is Sands. "Homer" Giblin sets a tough pace in his studies. Campbell and Cicero have the same first name, but the comparison stops there. Class president Hartmann has a pair of educated fists. Josler has been shaving for four years and he has cut himself both times. 3B's outstanding contribution to heavyweight football is Mulvihill. Wallyn is "the 88 keys" of Loyola. Noted for "high explosives" is Hector. Rooney is an accomplished student. Gresik tries his best to succeed and usually does. Jochim vows that he will be a champion boxer. Most of the humor is provided by Deden. Wade is one of those fellows who never grows old; or is it up? Last but not least is "better-late-than-never" Wrenn.

Vince Parro is a newcomer to Loyola. Rickey Lifvendahl might be termed a "Platinum Blonde." Quote "Through rain, sleet, and snow Jarmuth lets his crew cut grow." Louie LeMair insists that Chicago is a suburb of Wilmette. One of the mainstays of the Prep is Frank McCabe. When you hear a low bass voice, you will know John Grace is around. A "Big Dealer" with a big smile is John Finzer. Tom Hackett, Dick Osmanski, and Dick Kolba are rivals for the title of "Mighty Mites." One of the mainstays of the I-M basketball squad is Johnny Dicken. Martin Henslee is a newcomer to Loyola this year. Bert Cagney is seldom absent from any Loyola sports event. The grid team has great things planned for Keough, Langill, Luxem, McHugh, McKeon, Mulligan, Murphy, and Dick Sullivan. Lancaster, McBarron, and Senini all add up to a successful track squad. Where would the heavies be without Stuercke? Robert Von Holdt: an all-around good fellow. Michael Troman is one of the swishers of the lightweights. "A mighty tough boxer," says Lee Cordell's opponents. Tom Flannery is obliging to everyone including Father Maguire's Sacred Derby." Ray Bomhack bolsters the track teams with his distance running. Jim Cronin enjoys reading books on almost any subject. The man with the 1000 and 1 questions is Bill Clasgens. Jack Ryan donates his skill to the I-M hoop team. The strongest Republican in the school is George Keenan. Jack Runge was the co-captain of the Rambler Football squad.

Carl Conrad utilizes his spare time by reading encyclopedias. Class honors are usually taken by Charles Homan. 2X teachers might get past having one set of twins; namely, Bob and Ed Lussier; but when they reach the other set; Bob and Dick Wagener, it is just two much. Jim Brennwald represented the class on the boxing team. Fred Pape is always ready for a good laugh. When John Hellgeth gets through with his mission collection the class is flat broke. Joe Finnegan is everybody's friend. You will ne'er find a better companion than Tom Reynolds. "Baldy" Keshen has made quite a name for himself in the boxing ring. Leonard O'Connor is always ready with the right answer. The small stature of Pat Cagney does not prevent him from taking part in athletics. The Bantams basketball team was never at a loss for a few points as long as Bill Hillsman, Bert Hoffman, and Bill Penrice were playing. Dick Quinn's cartoons are widely appreciated at Loyola. George O'Laughlin is a real, live, typical 2X man. Scarsfield Quigley is a master of exaggeration. Francis Sweet's docile manner is well-liked by the whole class. Bill Hoffman completes the old adage "A friend in need is a friend indeed." Bruce Jagor's cheerfulness is well felt throughout the class. Mike Schoeffel is an admirer of the three "B's" and rarely misses classical events. We have yet to see Bill Colnon angry. You will always be greeted by Bern Swabey's cheerful words and glowing countenance. Vern LaHart and Jack Madden are up and coming young gridders. Dave Allen is a loyal supporter of all 2X intra-mural activities. While not an athlete, Don Fortmann is a fine scholar.

Jerry Kelly is Irish all the way through. Pat Burke can usually be seen at most of the Loyola activities. That perpetual smile belongs to Jack Clohisy. Bob Nolan is never without friends. "A gay character": that title can easily be applied to John Lane. George Kaiser is the hard-working promoter of intra-mural sports. A permanent fixture in the swimming pool is Bill Mallers. John Mix is one of Mr. Mattei's most faithful band members. Don Campe's humor is the backbone of the room. John Marguerite is long haired, short-spoken, and long-winded. If you look hard enough you can see Don Jones. Rambler grid hopes are expected to rise with Ray Flanagan, Bill Bradley, and Tom Devine galloping around. Jim Philbin roots for the right baseball team, writes large, and is a lot of fun. Charles Lynch carries on the coat-hanging conversation every morning. Charles Owens has his nose in everything. George Baker is right at home in the swimming pool. Bob Snyder is interested in his studies, and also in good books. Sarsfield Byrne has a reputation as the room's best imitator. Marshall Field and Co. was lucky when it got Bill Gallagher. Bob Sharp is "Eversharp" in his Latin. Why is it that Jack Spellman has so much, and the butchers have so little? John Cummings has plenty of gay spirit. John Heller is a newcomer to L.A. A man who never says a word, that's Don Cagney. Bill Maher is due to see much action on the hardwood next year. Jim Farrell mixes swimming with geometry. Jim Duffy should use his own books when he declares war.

Tom Cook leads the class, but where? You can always count on Rocco Ierino to be on time—for the second period. A man who glories in whirling a baton is John Connelly. Bob Carroll helps things along with his witty remarks. Jack Condon is a quiet lad, but he has his moments. "A whistful worrier" of the class is Dan Frogh. Don Hines is a connoisseur of chocolate malteds. "Hally" Hallenburg always has the answer. If it's a plane, Jim Clune can tell you about it. Bill Thart enjoys watching basketball games. One of the most promising soph gridgers is Gene Mitchell. Jim Maginot will fight the world to keep his hat. Al Way can always be counted on for a good joke. 2B's rise to fame is due to the efforts of class prexy Bob VanDerBosch. Gene Hartke and John Revell added to the star-studded Lights, while Bob McSweeney helped the Heavies along. For men who keep their knowledge to themselves we turn to Bill LaVezzorio and Horace McReynolds. Collecting major letters is Bill Roche's hobby. Clyde White will follow his dad's footsteps and fly for the Navy. That loud, booming voice from the back of the room belongs to Stan Osborn. Joe Coan is a firm believer in fresh air. Jack Nash was never at a loss for friends. Mike O'Donnell mixes his height and brains into a well-liked character.

SOPHOMORE C

Quinn is destined for a great future. Montgomery is a question box during religion class. Crowley is the champion basketeer of 2C's ink-well league. The Latin teacher is ably helped out by Rolfes. Nobody can say that McKeon asks for trouble, in fact, nobody can say that he even asks. Bireley is the able assistant manager of the basketball team. We have a humorous class president in McIntyre. 2C's answer man is Thiel. One of Loyola's double features is Slattery. Krueger is our last resort for unanswered questions. Bremmer may be low in stature, but in honors he's tops. Schnetzer—small but friendly. DeCaluwe, Durso, Dougherty, McCormick, and Hielscher say that the basketball squads can't get along without them. Hickey speaks for himself. Fred Allen has been scouting Krebs, both are full of wise remarks. Many an able-bodied boxer has given way to the mighty fists of Cummings. Hyland can be seen serving mass any morning of the week. Benbennick is a swell fellow with a sporting disposition. Eisler is our "five by five" with a brain to match. The underclass news in the Prep was handled by Festle. Donovan had a swell time running messages for Mr. Porcelli. Though he is rather small, still there is plenty of Irish in Moore. High on the sports and scholastic totem-pole is Kearney. Geometry holds its mysteries for Elward. Hayes leads 2C in studies and ping-pong. Ramos is one of Father Murphy's consistent afternoon visitors. A tackle of repute was Sweeney. That "Cupid from Campion" is King. Just before the night of the play Collyer lost his shirt.

Murray was known as "Junior" until Dernbach came. A "David" in stature but a "Goliath" in virtue, that's McDermott. 2D has a candidate for "Information Please" in Christman. Glendron is an all around good fellow. Hardin and Larkin are the class historians. Hester glories in studying the Helvetians. Collins is famous for his ambiguous answers. Smith Bros. Cough Drops have an ardent supporter in Mayfield. Kelly likes school so much he hates to come and take up room. The jitterbug of the class is Bolt. Rogers really gets around. Noz seldom misses honors. Could Bresnahan's name be "Little Sir Echo?" Gauer is the Morgenthau of our class. Lehr is no relation to the stage and screen star of the same name. Cunningham is the owner of the class dictionary. Little Jack Horner sat in a corner (a boxing corner). Schirmer would not be recognized without his sports shirt. Flood has hidden football talent. Harry James is closely rivaled by Anstett. O'Brien is the authority on the Locative case. Elster will follow his brother on the football team. J. Bergan Curran continually bubbles over with life. 2D is lucky to have a man like Bowe. Luhr and Purtell furnish all the class humor. Colford will laugh at his own funeral. Harold E. Sullivan is following in Harold W's footsteps. DeLeonardis is well-liked. One of the finer artists of the class is Sagerstrom. One of Mr. Connelly's hurdlers is Ryan. Every seat in the room has been occupied at one time or another by Gass.

Absent — J. Cleary, LaRotta.

Hartmann has a reputation as a good basketball player. The frosh football team was helped by Donnelly, Grimes, LaHart, Reichmann, and Theisen. Kramer is quiet and likable. Gramse can always be found in the tank room. One of the fellows who is progressing wonderfully in his studies is Gotsch. McGuinness is a pretty good scholar. Gorny is rather small but does pretty well for himself. A strong, silent hulk of a man—that's Brisco. Citti and O'Brien are known for their peggings at the wastepaper basket. One of the best liked lads in 1A is Gavin. Pascente is a little fellow popular with all. Young likes basketball as well as the food he eats. A fellow who keeps the class roaring at his imitations is Georger. The latest of a long line of footballers is Brown. Gerlits follows Mr. Keller's footsteps as a handball player. Mullan is a carefree and often jugged. Heavy-set and merry, another Santa Claus—that's Madden. Martin is almost unnoticeable in the back of the room. You will always find Ryan and Schuster with the band. One of the finer Loyola students is Schornack. Gelderman is responsible for the good mission showings. Abel is always ready to flash that winning smile. O'Rourke can be found jumping for a basketball everyday. Silent, but well liked is Moran. One of the best swimmers of the class is Greisser. Anselmen is famous for his ping-pong promise. Runge is a promising trackster and a good athlete. 1A has another Frank Sinatra in Denten. Oscar Levant has a double in LaRatta. Cleary believes in looking in his book while reciting one of Shylock's speeches.

Schied is a destined to become a handball champ. Brennan has added new life to the Torch Club. The fellow who knows the Algebra answers when the time comes is Hafner. Gross—magnus for short. Wrenn seems to have his hands in just about everything. Liebecit is a pretty good pool player. Vandervoort never goes below 90%. The ping-pong champ of 1B is Liff. Kroske spends more time out of school than in. O'Donnell must like a lot of noise for he plays the drums in the band. The newest and most promising student of 1B is Boylan. Brahm is the boxing champ of 1B. Schlitz, Bowman, and Weidenbruch are the brains behind this year's Sodalite. Henslee is the best debater in the room. The quiz kid of the room is Shannon. Vlerick always knows the time for lunch. O'Dwyer is one of the good and bad boys. Iacullo and Durante have something in common. Vice-President of the class is Vlerick always knows the time for lunch. O'Dwyer is one of the good and bad boys. Curtin. Fiet enjoys physical and verbal battles with unsuspecting persons. O'Connor earned a letter in frosh football. A quiet and studious fellow—that's Hagedorn. Class 1B's doorman is Fink. Bilek was five dollars richer after the Chesterton Club Raffle. Mahany is a typical Irishman. Christensen is the blackboard tender. Abrams is the tall, well-dressed man you see on the campus. If you see a face grinning at you from any part of the campus, you may be sure it's Sinks. Johnson plays the clarinet in the band. Bowen is a faithful Sodalist. Condon is a quiet individual. The class wit is Mitchell. Roche is the president of the class. Plate helps keep the class from going dry. Driscoll can always be counted on to get top honors.

FRESHMAN C

James McDonald excels in basketball. Ulysses Korbakes is a song bird. Jack FitzGerald and George deSmet help the boxing team. A fellow who hits the books is Paul Buster. A good sportsman is Bob Hayburn. Ray Klein, John Matzinger, Jack King and Paul Lovell were 1C's representatives on the frosh football team. The class mission collector was Don Cordell. The class is led by President George Action. Joe Thiel was a mainstay on the intra-mural basketball team. Bob Garmoe is well-liked by his classmates. Carmen DeLeonardis is the class wit. Ken Williams hopes to be a professional ping-pong player. A lad who is ready for a good time is John Walters. Harry Dooley is the class artist. Ray Pohl has a great future in track. A fellow who upholds the standards of 1C is John Kronan. William Dunton is a very industrious boy. You can tell Frank Gillespie's smile a mile away. Daniel Cullinan plays the clarinet in the band. An active sportsman is Frank Luby. Slightly heavy, jovial, and capable of high concentration—that's Jim Vale. Bill Conway played for the flies. Dave Byrne is a candidate for the smallest-man-in-the-school club. The boy with the likable personality is Daniel Hazard. Chuck Smally ought to go on the radio. Harry James has a hot contender in Jack Van Heule. Dick Wellbank skates as fast as he gets Latin. Robert Foley and James Wolfe lend their talent to the swimming team.

Top Row—McDonald, Korbakes, Fitzgerald, Buster, Hayburn, Klein, Cordell, Acton, Thiel, Garmoe, DeLeonardis, Williams.

Cook is the possessor of a winning smile. Mahoney is using his musical talents in playing for the band. A freshman candidate who was out for spring football practice is Bornhofen. Erbach is a quiet lad who is very popular with everyone. Sheehan's hair adds a little color to the classroom. Small but mighty—that's Dougherty. Koessler is one member of the class that is quiet and sociable. No one can say Campbell takes up a lot of room. Benzinger will long be remembered by the frosh gridders for his four touchdowns against St. Leonard's. Fautsch always seems to brighten up the room with his snappy ties. The strong, silent type—that's Jeffries. Fortier is strictly a lady's man. The mainstay on the 1D Dealer's basketball squad was Brennan. Bales never seems to have a worry in the world. He's small in stature but that big smile makes up for everything—that's Cleary. Hermes is no relation to the Greek god of the same name. McKiernan has that nice, black wavy hair. Garrity distinguished himself as a quarterback on the freshman football team. If you are looking for Henneberry the best place to start is in the gymnasium. Gorman was one of the most promising men out for freshman football. Peifer is one of the biggest and best natured Irishmen Loyola has seen in a long time. Lasher claims to know 95% of the fellows in the school personally. Gorman is the genial door-man of 1D. Dankowski was one of the best defensive men on the freshman football team.

FRESHMAN E

Top Row—Stein, Esser, Farley, Marschang, Holinger, O'Rourke, Becker, Glunz, Okon, Blaha, Leonard, Corley, Cuny.

Stein is very quiet and likable. Esser lends his typing ability to the Prep. Farley and Glunz are always seen together. Aristocratic and sociable—that's Marschang. Holinger is a great football fan and player on the frosh team. O'Rourke can always be seen with his hair neatly combed. Becker is a hard working Latin scholar. Okon, alias Narissa in the "Merchant of Venice." Blaha is always looking out for his studies. Leonard rates highest scholastic honors. Corley helps Loyola win points in the swimming meets with his diving. Cuny is another candidate of the smallest man club. Neff's round face can always be seen at all Loyola events. A fellow who never causes a disturbance is Foerster. Lear is a football letterman. Kastner is a man that says little, yet does much. Gibbons manages to get the fanciest ties at an unknown tie shop. A nice guy who does well in his studies is Jellison. Constable manages to get here just before the last bell every morning. The star basketball player on the flies is Fougrousse. Ducey learned boxing from his brother. Cross is a "Peck's Bad Boy." Fiorentini is always dreaming about spaghetti. The manager of the freshman football team was Byrnes. Sheehan is following in the steps of his big brother. Consistent honors and athletic ability bring Lindstrom much fame. Hoffeller is a tall fellow with a swell personality. The tennis team is expecting great things from Daly. A flashy end on the freshman football team was Cusick. Rosauer has the makings of a good short story writer. Kemper is one of the neatest boys in the school. The fellow with the Veronica Lake hair-do is Hamlin. Ripa is practicing to become a floor walker. Miller has a sparkling personality.

 • Middle Row —Glynn, McKendry, Brown, Waldo, Isaacson, Canavan, Barron, Lambrechts, Campe, Whittingham, McCue, Herbert, Pignatiello.
 • Bottom Row —Thedos, Flick, Ahern, Whalen, Butler, Marotta, Father Toomey, S. J., Maloney, Schmitz, Davaney, Keegan.
Absent—Flaherty, Striebel.

Lots of study plus a sense of humor equals Gannon. Smilin' Jim Liebich is a fellow with a husky voice. Whalen and Waldvogel are great friends. Jacobs is out for debating. Hanson is the class swimming champ. Cleary is generous in everything except his talk. Setze has a friendly word of greeting for everyone. A fellow who always seems to be studying is Fegen. Philips' good nature matches his weight. There is never a dull moment when Callaghan is around. Ryan, Schmitz, and Widing seldom fail to pull down honors. When DeLuca isn't boxing, you can find him playing in the band. Hard working and good sportsmanship comprise Hodapp. Campe, Marotta, Glynn, and Maloney lent their services to the frosh football squad. McKendry is always ready for an argument. We somehow wonder how Brown manages to carry all of his books. Honest and trustworthy—that's Waldo. Loyola will never be at a loss for a trumpet player as long as Isaacson is around. Canavan has finally adapted himself to Loyola. Barron will master Latin—someday. Keegan and Lumbrecht are two of the most consistent honor students. Whittingham was a star forward on the flies. McCue is full of fight and fun. That verbal gusher is Herbert. Pignatiello devotes his time to the band. Thedos is one of the classes' tallest men. Flick, although being quiet, is still worth knowing. A boy who has yet to lose his cheerfulness is Ahern. Butler is class vice-president. Davaney is a well-dressed dude. Striebel is a pool shark while Flaherty is a nice fellow to know.

ACTIVITIES

For the future success of a boy proper social adjustment is essential. We students are therefore offered many opportunities for culture and refinement; many occasions for working in small groups where the social virtues of selflessness, co-operation, tact, poise, proper self-expression are allowed full play. It is for this reason that students are encouraged to take part in extra-curricular activities. Even a hurried glance over the following pages will reveal such a wide range of activity that any type of boy will find one to his liking.

THE SENIOR SODALITY

The Senior Sodality, though small in number, only about twenty, was one of the most zealous organizations at Loyola. The officers of the group, Ralph Talkin, prefect; Carl Merschel, assistant prefect; and Tom Reading, secretary; in league with the moderator, Rev. Edward C. Maguire, S.J., led the club through another successful year.

This year the sodality went to a Greek Uniate Church to see the rite of saying Mass. They also went to Corpus Christi Church to see the living stations of the cross. A committee composed of Leach, Reading, and Dempsey wrote and enacted a play on the Gospel of Christ curing the blind man. The Missal Committee, McPartlin and Talkin, ran the various meetings which dealt with the use of the missal. Futterer and Guderyahn of the Mass Servers committee, taught the students of the school how to serve Mass. A demonstration and explanation of Baptism was put on by the Sacrament Committee, McPartlin and Reading. At various other meetings, the members meditated on the mysteries of the rosary and stations of the cross.

Truly these activities have brought the members closer to their religion, closer to Mary, closer to Christ. The fruits of their endeavors are indeed of great worth. To them "Ad Jesum Per Maria" is more than a motto; it is their life.

The Junior Sodality with their Moderator, Father Cavanaugh, S.J.

THE JUNIOR SODALITY

This year, the Junior Sodality, composed of the more fervent members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes, has added another successful year to its record. Father Cavanaugh, S.J., moderator, succeeding Father Evett, S.J. who left for the army, has done a fine job and deserves commendation for his work.

The sodality was composed of the following committees, namely: The Eucharist—Our Lady Committee, Al Bolt, chairman; The Literature Committee, James Elward, chairman; The Apostolic Committee, Tommy Rogers, chairman; and the Social Action Committee, Louis Lehr, chairman. The officers of the sodality are Bob Festle, first prefect; Matt Hickey, second prefect; and Bill Penrice, secretary. The group had three socials in the gym topped off by a social for sodalists and parents on January 30, the day of their reception into the Sodality of Our Blessed Lady.

Mr. Carey, S.J., assistant to Father Cavanaugh, S.J., was moderator of the Sodalite, a weekly mimeographed newspaper put out by the sodality with Frosh-Soph news. The editor-in-chief was M. E. Schlitz; assistant editors, Peter Bowman and Ted Leonard. The new staff was composed of Acton, Brennan, Wittingham, Wrenn, Sitze, Ryan, Bilek, Glunz, and Farley.

Maybe in years to come this years members will forget what went on at their second meeting or what the headline of the thirteenth Sodalite was, but they won't forget the devotion they have acquired for the Blessed Virgin Mary. They will carry out the motto of their organization "Ad Jesum Per Mariam."

MISSIONS

One of the greatest traditions in Loyola Academy is the voluntary contributions to the Missions. Once a week throughout the year offerings are made for the support of the Jesuits in Patna, India. Much incentive for the cause is derived from the "thank you notes" of the missionaries themselves; keen competition in the mission collection among the classes; the use of several Catholic magazines as prizes for students with large contributions; the displaying of the Mission pennant in the winning classroom, which is usually 3X; and, finally, from the gracious visit and talk by Rev. John O'Connor, S.J., formerly of the Patna Mission field. Although India may be far away, the students take a personal interest in the collections. The notes of gratitude received from far away Patna make giving up a coke or candy worth while.

LEAGUE OF THE SACRED HEART

The League of the Sacred Heart has just completed its thirtieth year of continued faithful service. The prime function of this group is to further the students' devotion to the Sacred Heart. With this end in mind the monthly leaflets which contain the intention presented by the Holy Father are distributed throughout the school by the class promoters. These intentions are appended to the Morning Offering, which is recited at the first period of the day in all classes. The Moderator of this organization is Reverend Walter O. Crane, S.J., and his chief promoter and assistant is Joseph Bates.

THE ACOLYTES

Through the harassing wrath of the elements, members of one of the most loyal groups in Loyola, struggle to the Loyola University Chapel to serve the Masses of the faculty priests. With eyes still partly wrapped in slumber, the acolytes brave the dreary dimness of dawn to fulfill their voluntary chore. Several athletic and social gatherings were held in the gym for this organization as some reward for their service; but the fruits of their labor is yet to be reaped.

Members of the Loyola Torch Club.

THE LOYOLA TORCH CLUB

Every Monday afternoon Father Walker would announce that the Torch Club would meet in room 4A immediately after school. And meet it would, in fact, any one outside the room would say that it collided. Except for the brief opening prayer, discussions were carried out with great pandemonium.

We are not criticizing the club for its lack of order in running its meetings. There is nothing but praise for the Torchies, because in this one fault is really found their greatest virtue. The Torch Club was full of life, with forty members who wanted to do things, offer suggestions, new ideas, and new projects. To be fair, we must admit that every meeting started out under the genial leadership of Bam Maloney, and order was preserved "until things got going."

It is interesting to note the number of jobs the Torch Club handled in between their twenty-two meetings of the school year. These projects, of course, would never have been successful without the cooperation of all Loyolans.) Perhaps you remember way back in September the big Pep-rally in the stadium . . . the Bonfire rally before the George's game . . . the signs splashed about the school . . . the formal protest against booing . . . the ushers . . . the programs made up and distributed by Torchies . . . the reffing (both good and bad) of the intra-mural games . . . backing the play by making signs . . . The Missal Drive . . . the backing of the big Easter mission collection . . . The Tulip Trot for the benefit of the Madonna della Strada chapel—all these events speak the purpose of the club, "to back up Loyola in all its activities."

The offices were very capably handled by Bam Maloney, president; Jerry Vanden Branden, vice-president; Ken Sophie, secretary; John Luby, treasurer; Bill Bowman, sergeant-at-arms.

The Torch Club in session.

THE BAND

New blood was added to the Band this year to the extent of twenty-three new members. Of these, all but two were novice musicians; however, what the Band might have lost by their inexperience was made up for, inasmuch as they were freshmen who will be trained as a unit for three more years at Loyola. Because of their persistent efforts, they soon went beyond the stage of "Beginners" and eventually, as their efficiency became more apparent, were given uniforms and taken into the Band as regulars.

The regulars, though they were not so plentiful early this year, still held up the tradition of playing at the football games, adding their little bit to encourage the team on the gridiron. Not only this. For the first time in Loyola history, they executed the school song which was arranged for the Band this year and played and sung with great gusto at school functions. It was the Band's noble effort in this regard which tended to amalgamate the squeaky voices of a hoarse student-body into a satisfying version of their Alma Mater song, "Loyola."

The Director, Mr. Mattei, showing how it is done.

Among the Band's other performances were: its support given to several Dads' Meetings; incorporation into the Dads' hit Show, November 26; the Amateur Night, March 10; the opening of St. Ignatius Parish Basketball Tournament, March 16; the Band Contest, May 20.

In connection with the Music Festival held in Orchestra Hall this year, George Von Kaenel, clarinetist, represented Loyola Academy. In the Solo Contest the following awards were won by Band members: Trumpets—Michel McKiernan and Stanley Anstett, both, first prize; Clarinets—George Von Kaenel, second prize; Eugene Jones, third prize; Saxophone—William Templeman, second prize; Barytone—John Mix, second prize.

The Director of the Band this year was Guido Mattei, who directed it last year also. The Faculty Moderator was Mr. Laurence Flynn, S.J., whose hard work and interest went far in making the Band the success it was.

ROSTRUM

The Loyola Academy Debating Team added new glory this year to the already long list of debating honors gained during former years. The high spot of the year's debating was the annexation of the Catholic Debating League Championship by the Loyola team. This was due especially to the excellent work of the affirmative team of Thomas Massion and William Sheehan, and the negative team of William Ermatinger and Richard Prindiville. Carl Merschel aided the Loyolans until he left the Academy at the semester. Charles Giblin also assisted the championship drive.

The grand finale of the year's activities was the Loyola Debate Tournament held on April 1, 1944. Loyola was host to twelve other schools in this tournament. Forty-two teams defeated forty-two other teams during the day. At the end Providence had won seven of eight debates, Waukegan and Alvernia tied for second, the former winning six of eight, and the latter twelve of six; Marquette won eleven debates and lost five. Loyola was fourth with sixteen wins in twenty-four debates. Two Loyola teams: William Ermatinger and Richard Prindiville, William Sheehan and Joseph Minogue, went through all four rounds undefeated. The team of Robert Ducey and Frank McCabe won three and lost only one debate.

During the long season, Loyola debated teams representing Alvernia, De LaSalle, Fenwick, Marquette (Milwaukee), New Trier, Providence, St. George, St. Ignatius, St. Patrick, St. Philip, St. Scholastica, Waukegan, and Mt. Carmel.

In league or tournament competition in inter-scholastic debates of 1943-1944, Loyola won 37 debates while losing only 13, an average of .740! Besides these debates, there were about 15 inter-scholastic and intra-mural practice debates.

On January 15, Loyola was represented at Marquette's mock session of the League of Nations by Jerry Nolan, Robert Jacobs, and Robert Ducey, accompanied by Mr. Edward M. Loveley, S.J., the moderator of the Rostrum.

THE GAVEL

Despite the loss of some veteran members, through the acceleration of classes, the Gavel once more brought laurels home to Loyola.

In preparing for the big debating events of the year, Mr. Flynn, S.J., the club's Moderator struggled against time to whip the new members into shape. He put across to them the idea of debating, its advantages, and its many lasting benefits. Like a drill sergeant and a sister of Mercy combined, he nursed them through the fundamentals, helped them to overcome their self-consciousness, and then allowed them to debate among themselves.

The spark plugs of the organization were President John Hellgeth and Secretary Ted Leonard. Hellgeth had been chosen to his sought after position last year; Penrice, now no longer with the Gavel, yielded his office as Secretary to Leonard.

When the time came the members of the club proved themselves ready to argue the year's topic: Resolved that the United States should join in reconstituting the League of Nations. They accepted the challenges of their constant rivals: St. Scholastica, Alvernia, St.

Ignatius, St. George, De La Salle, and Providence. Here their brief training proved its worth because when the dust of battle had settled, these little giants had won more than fifty per cent of their engagements.

Throughout the winter months, debating activity continued steadily, the only long interruptions being during the semester examinations and the annual retreat.

The experience gained on the various trips was well worth all the wars and inconvenience involved, and will stand the debaters in good stead throughout the years to come. Although not as spectacular as football or basketball, debating is as beneficial if not more so for those who take part in it. It helps a boy to drop his shrouds of self-consciousness and enables him to stand on his own feet like a man. He gains a certain amount of self confidence that will never completely leave him, and he learns how to think quickly when confronted with a problem. Surely the advantages reaped far surpass the work involved as the Rostrum Debaters will testify this year.

THE SHUTTER CLUB

At practically every school activity is seen at least one sinister figure carrying a little black box and an assortment of other mysterious equipment. At a critical moment, a great flash will burst forth from some of this impedimenta and cover the unsuspecting onlookers with a blanket of dazzling light. The individual responsible is a member of the Loyola Academy Shutter Club; he has, he hopes, just taken a prize picture of the year.

The Shutter Club aims at promoting amateur photography among the Academy students and at providing candid shots for the Prep and the Grad Prep.

THE STAMP CLUB

Stamp collecting, as you all know, is a mild form of fanaticism, which sometime spurs those in its power into the first steps of idolatry. This little "fetish", commonly called the postage stamp, is the cause of this malady. The highly inflammatory germ of this contagious hobby rages unchecked through Loyola. Those most highly afflicted have isolated themselves in the Loyola Stamp Club.

The purposes of this organization are to get the "carriers" together, to enlarge their hobby, Instructive lectures in elementary technique and talks on the mechanics of photography are given by the Club members. The Club supplements theory with practice by its field trips and photography contests. This year the organization took an excursion to the Brookfield Zoo.

The annual gives tangible evidence that the second aim of the Club was achieved. Special credit must be given to Jim Ferstel for his splendid work as photographic editor of the yearbook.

The Moderator of the organization is Mr. Gutowski, S.J.

and to purchase the stamps and covers sold for the Patna Mission Stamp Mart.

This year the members of the club took a great step forward by framing a written constitution, which must be upheld by all. The incentive this constitution has become is evident by the facts that the boys have given twice as much this year to the Missions by their purchases than any previous year, and that they held four successful exhibits. The Moderator is the Rev. Gerasime M. Legris, S.J.

CHESTERTON CLUB

This year, the Chesterton Club was under the aegis of Carl Merschel and, in the second semester, of Thomas Massion. The Club met more or less regularly every two or three weeks. The purpose of this organization is to foster interest in literature and to inspire creative activity among the students.

In particular the Chesterton Club studied not so much Catholic authors, but contemporary authors in general. Such books as The Robe, Thomas Aquinas, Song of Bernadette, Our Hearts Were Young and Gay formed the subject matter for reviews and discussion.

The Club had a successful raffle in March to abet the Chesterton Club Library. Books purchased this year included Ward's Chesterton, Walsh's St. Teresa of Avila, Leonard Feeney's Omnibus, Crump's Our Marines.

After Easter, a social at which original stories, poems and essays were read terminated the year's activities.

Mr. Frederick Manion, S.J., a new moderator succeeding Mr. Charles Conroy, S.J., took over this year.

FINE ARTS SOCIETY

Under the direction of its moderator and founder, the Reverend William J. Toomey, S.J., and under the leadership of its president, Jack Clark, the Fine Arts Society completed the sixth year of existence. "This was the best year in the history of the organization. There has never been such student interest in the Society before," said Father Toomey. The constitution which was drawn up and passed by the Society last year was rigidly enforced by the officers of the Club.

The first and greater part of the school year was devoted, as usual, to the study and appreciation of good music. The compositions heard by the members on records ranged from the strict classicism of Johann Sebastian Bach and Ludwig van Beethoven to the fiery modernism of Dmitri Shostakovich and Richard Strauss. A series of lectures discussing and explaining the various forms of musical compositions accompanied these works, outstanding of which were: the sonata form as presented by Jack Clark, the piano concerto explained and played by Thomas LaRatta, and the string quartet discussed by Theodore D. Leonard. Following these lectures, reviews of the great master's lives and compositions were presented; notably, Jan Sibelius as presented by David Paden, Cesar Franck as reviewed by Theodore D. Leonard, and Peter Tchaikovsky as analyzed by Jack Clark. Outside of the meetings, the members attended the bi-weekly performances of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra's "Pop" concerts on Saturday nights. When the Metropolitan Opera Company came to Chicago, the Club enjoyed the performance of Bizet's Carmen on April 22.

The dramas of William Shakespeare were discussed during the latter part of the year. Macbeth, Julius Caesar, and the Merchant of Venice were all heard on records. The plots of other dramas were analyzed and a few scenes were acted out by members of the Society. During the final few meetings, members of the Faculty favored the organization with lectures based on the topic "The Dramas of William Shakespeare."

Late in May, the Club climaxed the year by holding a banquet for members in the Academy Senior Lounge for the final gathering of the Fine Arts Society of 1944.

THE ALUMNI LETTER

Because of the world conflict in which we are immersed, the Loyola Academy Alumni was threatened with complete and final extinction. Its members, scattered all over the war torn world, were almost entirely out of touch with one another. Naturally, no organization was possible. To cope with this situation, Rev. Gerasime M. Legris, S.J., instituted last summer what is known as the Alumni Letter. The prime purpose of this letter is to inform members of Loyola's Alumni in service about the progress, whereabouts, ranks, and so forth of their former classmates. As can be imagined, it has been read with interest by former Loyolans all over the earth. It is made possible only by the letters received by Father Legris from the men in service and from their parents and friends. Father Legris synthesizes the parts of the letters he considers interesting to all, and with them forms his composite epistle; the digest is then mimeographed, folded, and placed in envelopes by Academy students.

Mrs. Patrick J. Cummings, President

The Loyola Academy Mothers' Club opened its 1943-44 season on Monday, September 22, 1943, with its organization meeting. Thus began a highly successful year under the capable leadership of its new President, Mrs. Patrick J. Cummings and the new Moderator, Rev. Ara F. Walker, S.J. The first meeting inaugurated a succession of monthly meetings which featured such great speakers as Rev. Ralph A. Gallagher, S.J., Dean of the School of Sociology of Loyola University, whose talks are traditionally popular with the mothers, and Rev. William A. Finnegan, S.J., Dean of Loyola University, who discussed the problems of discipline during wartime. Father Walker gave an informative talk on the Mass, and was called back at a later date to continue the subject. After the meetings refreshments were served, during which time the mothers had an opportunity to meet the teachers of their sons and to discuss their progress in school.

The purpose behind the Mothers' Club is to develop closer relationship between the parents and the members of the Faculty. The organization likewise supports the Scholarship Fund by contributing the annual proceeds of their activities to this worthy cause.

Besides these informal gatherings in the Senior Lounge, the mothers sponsor three important annual parties in the gymnasium. The first of these benefit parties was held on Friday, October 15 when the Senior and Junior mothers presented a Dessert-Bridge party, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Clem Lane and Mrs. Charles S. Rollings. At Christmas, in collaboration with the University Mothers' Club, the Academy Mothers held their second party. Mrs. Cummings, President, joined the president of the University Mothers to make it a worthy success. The final party of the year was the Annual Scholarship Party which took place early in May of 1944.

This year's Day of Reflection was under the direction of Lieut. John L. Bonn, S.J. of the U. S. Navy.

The year terminated with a Tea in the Senior Lounge, held in appreciation of the efforts and generous cooperation of all the mothers in the year's work.

At dinner on the Day of Reflection.

THE FATHERS' CLUB

The Fathers' Club of Loyola Academy has again completed a year of repetitive successes. The purpose of the club, namely, to create a firm relation between fathers, sons and teachers and to assist many who without the liberal support of the organization would be unable to continue at Loyola, has been accomplished with the utmost success by the President, Mr. Cyril M. Brennan and its moderator, the Rev. G. M. Legris, S.J. When at the annual Communion Breakfast on May 7, the club presented the Very Reverend James M. Egan, S.J., president of Loyola University and Loyola Academy, with a check for two thousand dollars for the Loyola Academy Fathers' Club Scholarship Fund, the second part of the aim was realized. The first half of the aim was realized at various functions of the club throughout the year.

There have been several innovations this year. The first a football clinic in October met with great success. Another was the start of gym night at which all the facilities of the gymnasium are turned over to the fathers. This allowed the fathers to spend an evening of sportslike relaxation, a not very frequent occurrence.

Mr. Cyril Brennan, President of the Fathers' Club.

To Father Legris and the Fathers' Club we wish continued success in their noble endeavor. We might in years to come forget the Fathers' Club but we won't forget what they have done. But especially those who have been helped financially through the Academy by the Fathers' Club won't forget what they have done—given them the brightest apple on the tree of life, a Catholic education.

THE PREP PLAYERS

In the shadow of tottery walls, the stage is set amidst wheelbarrows, oil cans, and dust. Hard work preceeded the opening of the curtain on "George Washington Slept Here," Mr. Bert Walker and Mr. Joseph M. Walsh, S.J., were very well satisfied with the players' most recent attempt at a Hart-Kaufman "learned sock."

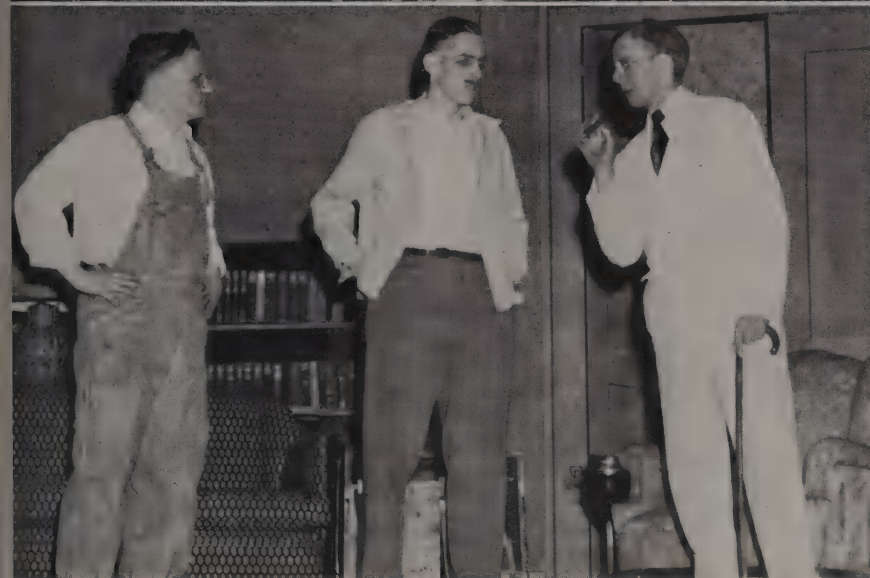

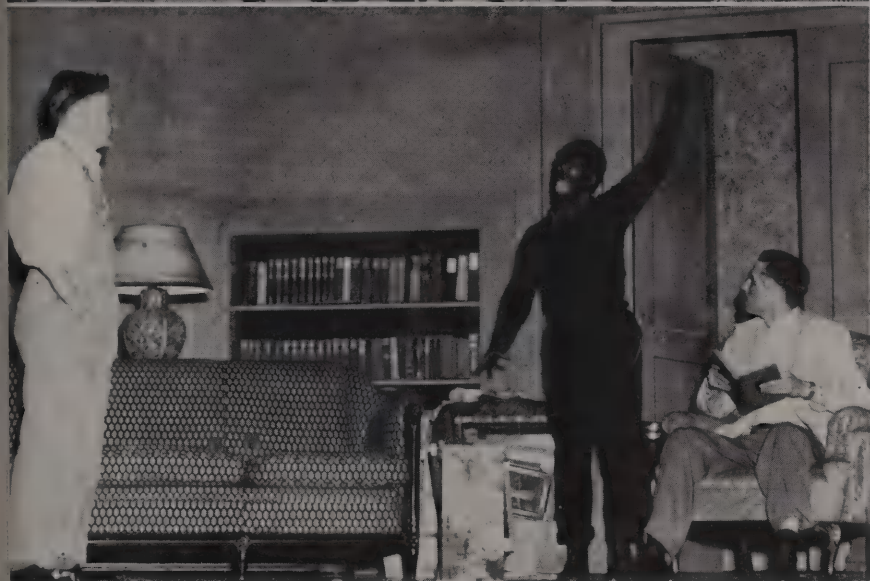

Since the rule of an all-male cast was in effect, parts which were originally for actresses were changed to suit Loyola students. Instead of Fred Thompson's being "Newt" Fuller's wife he became his brother-in-law. Gerard Vanden Branden handled some excellent characterization as Mr. "I think we'll need a coupla' more loads a' gravel" Kimber. Cliff Kennedy fluttered about the stage as country-loving "Newt" Fuller. John Luby, as Fred Thompson, brought down the house when he casually remarked "Oh, we don't need any fertilizer with Uncle Stanley coming." Dick McPartlin did some fine work as Mr. Douglas, and Dick Leach was an admirable "parasite" in his portrayal of Uncle Stanley. Clark Boughton and Mel Bowen played the parts of Bob Fuller and Steve Thompson well. Charles Gries, as Henry, the colored porter, provoked many a hearty laugh; Ted Leonard was a natural Raymond; and Mike Di Gilio, the inexorable Mr. Prescott. Supporting roles were well done by Ed Langhenry, Larry Hayes, Harold Sullivan, James Quinn, Oliver Williams, and Victor Collyer.

Much credit for a near-perfect show must go to John Clinnin, Dave Fallon, and Bill Touhy who were stage managers. Tickets were sold by John Maloney, Paul Oberlin, David Padden, and Kirby Roche. The Loyola Prep, the Dealers' Digest, and the Loyola Torch Club took care of the publicity. Special credit must go to Jack Jozwiak and Chuck Rollings who spent their Saturdays and Sundays in writing letters of advertisement to all the Chicago morning and evening, daily and Sunday papers. Too, they were inspired to plan and write the Dealers' Digest. All these men, the unseen, made the play the success it was by supplementing the excellent work of the cast.

THE LOYOLA PREP

This year under the leadership of Carl Merschel, the Loyola Prep completed its 27th year of steady publication. Carl Merschel devoted most of his talents to the literary page, while has associate editors, Jack Jozwiak and Chuck Rollings handled assignments, make-up, and headlines. This year saw the advent of several new columns and features. They were I-M News by Dan Heffernan, John's Jocular Jestings by John Luby, and Scoops, an inquiring reporter Column by Jerry Vanden Branden. Ed Whalen, assistant sports editor, handled the Sports Shorts. Exchanges from all over the country were constantly arriving from all over the country at the Prep offices. The filing and recording of these was handled by Larry Hayes. The duties of mailing the Prep were under the supervision of Tom Weber, business manager.

On January 28th, Mr. Thomas Maher, S.J., announced the appointment of a new staff. As has been the custom for the last 25 years, the staff of seniors is replaced by a staff of juniors and they carry on until the second semester of the following year. The two former associate editors, Jack Jozwiak and Chuck Rollings were appointed co-editors. Under their direction, a new style of make-up has been introduced. A consistency in headlines and a greater sparkle in news stories was sought for. In order to give voice to the underclassmen, a new column, Class News, was introduced. To allow the students to voice their opinions on current events, school activities, and criticisms of the Prep, a letter to the editor column was opened.

Jack Clark was appointed associate editor in charge of headlines and typing. The duties of Sports editor were filled by Jack Gallagher. The Exchange column fell into the hands of Mark Campbell, while Gene Jones edited the Joke column. The position of feature editor was held by Don Byrnes, Bill Bowman, and Co-editors and Moderator.

Bill Kilkenny. Frank McCabe was chief copy reader. The business duties were assigned to Bill Cannon. Scoops and Sports Shorts were filled by Dan Healy and Ed Senini, respectively. All photographs appearing in the Prep were taken by Bill Isaacson or Jim Ferstel. Mr. Thomas Maher, S.J., was in his second year as moderator of the Prep.

GRAD PREP

Ordinarily plans and work on our annual are begun early in September. However, it was decided at the beginning of the school year that, due to rising costs and shortages, there would be no year book.

Late in November, the production of the Grad Prep was reconsidered and Mr. Walsh, S.J., undertaking the duties of Moderator, appointed Bill Kilkenny as Editor-in-Chief. George Editor-in-Chief and Moderator.

Schnitzius was selected as Business Manager, assisted by Harold Sullivan and Bill Bowman; Bill Bowman was also Faculty Editor, Co-Editors of the Prep, Jack Jozwiak and Chuck Rollings, collaborated on the Underclassmen section and their experience on the Prep proved invaluable to the Moderator and Editor. Larry Hayes and Jerry Vanden Branden took care of the Athletic section, while John Luby and Mel Bowen did the write-ups for the remaining extra-curricula. The Senior write-ups were done by Bill Templeman and the Calendar is the excellent work of Dick McPartlin. Bill Sheehan and Tom Weber were ever available when copy had to be proof-read. The unsung heroes who did all the typing were Jack Clark and Ed Donovan.

Photographic Editor, Jim Ferstel, submitted all the football pictures so that the grid section could be finished early. To him goes the credit for the excellent photography throughout the book and especially for his long and selfless work in preparing the "candid" pages.

Carl Merschel, in the capacity of Art Editor, designed the cover, while Dick Quinn drew the copies of the Sacred Heart.

Most of the year book was completed late in March. The first week of April was spent in final preparations—typing, arranging the position of advertisements and patrons. The remaining weeks of April were spent in proof-reading copy sent back by the printer.

The staff is to be congratulated on their cooperation and interest, especially the Editor-in-Chief who gave up even his weekends in order that the Grad Prep would be a reality.

ATHLETICS

In the following pages we present our life from its lighter side. Athletics very definitely has a place in our development, for it is evident that the force of the will and the vigor of the intellect usually are affected by the health of the body. Since not all boys can play on a varsity team and since intra-mural teams cannot accommodate everyone, the students are free to use the gymnasium during any noon-period and any night after school. With such a variety of sports as Loyola offers, we are given every possible chance to develop healthy bodies, while learning how to work and play with others.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The members of the classes of 1944, 1945, and 1946 will be remembered as having composed a team in 1943 that could mix with the best of them and come off the field with its spirits possibly lowered somewhat by a defeat now and then, but with a minimum of physical aches and pains. Coach Connelly, assisted by Frank Jenks, supplied the brains and developed the brawn with which the team was able to go through a rigorous ten-game schedule ending up with a percentage of 500. An inexperienced line, which caused much pre-season anxiety, developed into a forward wall which could tighten up well on defense and open up quite a few sizeable holes on offense. The backfield maintained a constant threat with their speedy, shifty attacks, as proved by runs of considerable yardage during the season. (H. Sullivan's 80 yard run against DePaul; Sophie's 55 yarder against St. Patrick, and Maloney's several runs of over 40 yards). Paul Oberlin was elected captain by his teammates. Paul is, by the way, the only Senior who has ever won three major monograms in football; he has been first-string for three years. With the season over, the squad chose deserving Bam Maloney as the most valuable man on the team. Gene McKeough is the only returning member of the first-string team.

Bam Maloney sweeps right end for forty-five yards against St. Ignatius.

Coach Connelly and Captain Oberlin seem well pleased with the season in general.

IN RETROSPECT

With three weeks of practice under their belts, the Ramblers opened the season with the cream of the crop—the Leo Lions. On a muddy field Loyola was turned back 20-0 in a game which saw two touchdowns on passes—the tip-off of Loyola's weakness. Then meeting our neighborhood rivals, Sullivan, we trounced them 28-6. It was in this game that we recognized a great placement kicker in George Schnitzius whose season total was 12 for 17. DePaul was the next to suffer a demise at the hands of the Ramblers; the score was 26-12.

In the League opener, St. Philip's took us in Gaelic fashion 20-0. It was in this game that the aforementioned cause of pre-season worry came to the fore. The Gaels recovered a Loyola fumble on the 2 yard stripe. In four plays Loyola's forward wall had battered the Gaels back to the six. In our next game Weber emerged the victor by a score of 18-13, despite Maloney's twofold tally. St. Ignatius, quite cocky in their manner, journeyed to Loyola and met the Ramblers at their peak. Quinn's constant smashes through the line and Maloney's first downs brought us the favorable score of 22-6. In the St. Patrick's game Sophie proved what a great back he was as our opponents went down 22-0.

St. George 7, Loyola 0, was the score that resulted from a 30 yard pass followed by that end around. Again it was a pass that let our traditional rivals and City Champs take us by one touchdown. The Fenwick Friars next took us 6-0 in the league finale; this low tally was set up by a 25 yard pass to the one yard line. In the last two games it was Bowman and Cleary who constantly broke up the plays. On Thanksgiving Day Loyola left the field in a happy mood as the score board read 27-13 in the Rambler's favor. The bright spots of this game and of the season were Compernal's 42 yard romp to a touchdown on an intercepted pass and Bam Maloney's 65 yard race down the field, behind perfect blocking, to score on the last play of the game,—a fitting close to a brilliant career.

Unobserved by Loyola, Tom Martin makes Fenwick's lone score.

Fullback Jim Quinn

The Lightweights, those stars of tomorrow who were the cannon fodder of today, played only two outside games, winning one and losing one. Twice a week they scrimmaged the more experienced varsity—a feat done gladly, though sans glory. In their first game they encountered the lights from St. George and took them 19-13. The scoring punch was supplied by two sophomores, Willie Roche and Ray Flanagan who hit paydirt twice. In their second game the lightweight squad went out to Oak Park to engage Fenwick. The Ramblers came back the losers 21-0.

On December 8 the football banquet topped off the season. Mr. Bert Metzger, a former Loyola star and a member of Knute Rockne's last team, was the guest speaker. When Capt. Paul Oberlin got up to speak, he presented Coach Connelly with a 21-jeweled gold watch on behalf of the squad. At the banquet Monograms were awarded to: Capt. Oberlin, Cleary, Luby, Quinn, Schnitzius, Bowman, Compennol, McKeough, Sophie, Kilkenny, Jozwiak, K. Roche, Romano, Maloney, H. Sullivan, Runge, Gelderman, W. Roche, Dunne, Langill, Luxem, Murphy, and Mgr. Vanden Branden.

FRESHMEN FOOTBALL

Though the record of the team on a percentage basis was not outstanding, the freshman football team at Loyola was very successful. Never in the history of the school have seventy ambitious youngsters turned out for the squad. It shows that there is plenty of pep in the younger fellows, pep that will give Loyola a fighting ball club in a few years.

The Freshmen were introduced into the intricacies of the "T" formation by Mr. Liska, S.J. and Mr. Gutowski, S.J., the diligent and successful coaches. The "T" was introduced because Coach Connelly was interested in whether it might be made part of the Varsity offensive along with the well known Warner system.

The Freshmen won one, tied one, and dropped four. They opened the season with a 13-13 score in the battle against St. Ignatius. They then dropped four in a row to older and more experienced teams: St. Philip, DePaul, St. Patrick, and Fenwick. The underclassmen closed with a triumph over St. Leonard 26-0.

The Frosh have several good men coming up, among whom are Dankowski and Lovell. Bam Maloney's younger brother, Brud Maloney, was elected captain; he is one of those who look like "comers."

HEAVYWEIGHT BASKETBALL

The Loyola Heavyweights were the fourth team to take the floor under the direction of Coach John J. Connelly. Despite the loss of last year's entire original first-string, enough lettermen returned to ably represent the Academy against all contenders.

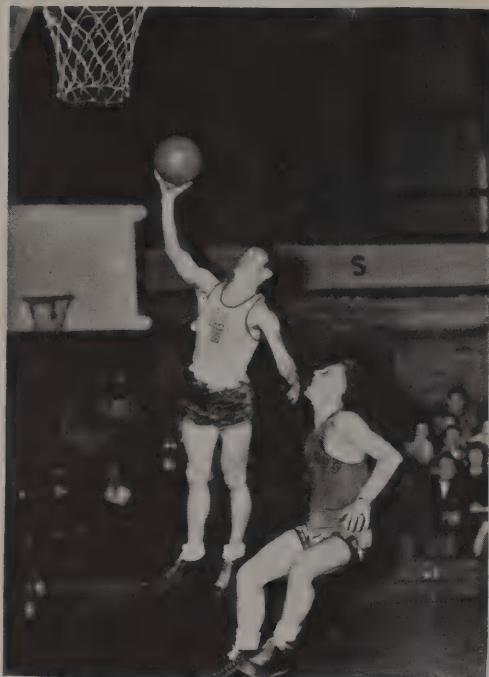

The squad breezed through the practice season by winning four of its first eight starts. Having dropped one to St. Mel, 37 to 29, the Ramblers returned to hand St. Rita a 26 to 15 setback. In a second game with St. Mel the previous loss was avenged, 36 to 15. The first game of the pre-season St. George tournament netted a victory over St. Gregory, 35 to 8. The second found us nosing out St. Leo, 36 to 34. Loyola suffered its first tournament defeat when it lost to St. Michael in the semi-finals, 28 to 30. St. George won the play-off game for third place, 34 to 32, thus giving us a fourth. Captain Dan O'Donnell was named on the all-tournament team for his excellent performance. A defeat by St. Michael, 41 to 17, marked the last of the pre-season games.

The first round of the North Section race hit a sorrowful note when Loyola lost an uphill fight to St. Philip, 27 to 28. Paced by Ed Kelly's fifteen points the team trounced St. Ignatius, 35 to 30. The Rambler's next game proved a fatality when St. Patrick pulled ahead in the last quarter for a 26 to 24 upset. For our third league game, we journeyed to Weber only to drop a high scoring affair, 54 to 40. Back on their own floor the Ramblers downed St. George 36 to 18, as high-point man Kelly sunk nine buckets. Three practice games followed. Mt. Carmel took the first of these, 41 to 34. After trouncing St. Gregory 41 to 18, the Ramblers overcame St. Michael, 52 to 34. Out in Oak Park, Fenwick took the last game of the first round, 30 to 22.

In the second round, despite the rebounds of Paul Boehme, the team dropped a thriller to St. Philip, 40 to 36. After losing one to St. Ignatius, 38 to 31, the team beat St. Patrick's on McKeough's set shots, 45 to 40. The boys from Weber snared a second game, now 44 to 24. Next came a defeat at the hands of avenging St. George's, 34 to 23. In the first quarter of the Fenwick game Loyola dropped behind and never caught up; the final score was 26 to 32. A post-season play-off game was had with St. George; they won in the final seconds, 33 to 32, despite O'Donnell's fourteen points.

On paper Loyola's record does not compare so favorably with those of other years. In league competition the Ramblers won three and lost nine. The record for the season was ten wins and fifteen losses.

Most outstanding player on the team was Dan O'Donnell whose all-around ability won him three tournament awards. High scorer for the team and close contender for North Section scoring honors was dribble artist, Ed Kelly. Center Paul Boehme's height was put to good use under the backboard. Spark of the team and speed demon deluxe was Bam Maloney. Gene McKeough's long shots and his calm, steady playing pulled the team through many a tight spot. Reed, Compagnol, Bowman and Stuercke all gave plenty of service. Durso and McSweeney, who also played with the Bantams, showed promise for next year.

The Loyola Lightweights, although not so successful in league competition, walked away with the third place trophy from the Fenwick Tournament. By defeating Fenwick 21 to 20 and De LaSalle 23 to 19 they reached the semi-finals where St. Philip defeated them 37 to 19. In the play-off for third place the Ramblers surprised a highly rated Mt. Carmel five for a 30 to 27 decision. For outstanding play in these games O'Donnell was named on the All-Tournament Team and also was voted Most Valuable Player.

Although composed almost entirely of underclassmen the Lights showed definite ability. Early in the season the team downed St. Ignatius 33 to 32. They were the only basketball team to defeat Fenwick which was done in Oak Park in a league game by the score of 27 to 25. The Ramblers also salvaged the last game of the season, a hard fought contest with St. George, 29 to 28. The team's record for the entire season was nine wins out of twenty-six games.

Captain Padden, sparked the team and scored 119 points. The only team mate to beat him was high-pointer Decaluwe with 139. Long shot expert was McCarthy. For rebounds and good ball handling the team looked to Mackey. Maurer provided speed for the outfit. Latecomer on the scene was Troman who shows definite prospects. Maginot, Revell, Hartke and Scahill completed the list of hopefuls. Head man of the whole show was Coach Connelly who shaped and developed the Lightweights of 1944. With the return of most of these veterans to next year's team the future should be bright.

Mackey's confidence is in Captain Padden.

BANTAMS

The 1944 Bantamweight Basketball Team had many bright spots. Under the guidance of Mr. Robert G. Liska, S.J., the team improved steadily so that the season's end found them with six wins and six losses.

The bantams started out by defeating St. George 24 to 18. This was capped by a 21 to 20 victory over St. Ignatius. Weber snapped the team's short winning streak with a 40 to 10 decision. The Ramblers bounced back to trounce St. Michael 34 to 23. Their luck didn't hold, however, and they lost four games to De LaSalle, St. Ignatius, St. George and St. Philip before turning St. Michael back a second time, 24 to 16. After dropping another game to Weber the bants returned to upset a strong De LaSalle quintet, 27 to 14. The last and most thrilling game of the season resulted in an overtime victory as St. George was tripped up, 21 to 19.

High scorer McSweeney paced the team aided by Durso's steadying influence. Penrice, Hillsman, and Dougherty showed plenty of promise as did Shermer, Hoffman, and Cleary.

FLIES

The flies this year were a team to be proud of. From the very beginning they acquired a habit of winning which gave them a final record of seven victories for twelve attempts.

First victim of the year was St. George by the lop-sided score of 23-8. Victories over St. Gertrude's, St. Michael's, and St. Ignatius followed in quick succession. Weber proved to be the first downfall and the Ramblers lowed to a 36-11 defeat. Once again St. Michael fell as did the lads from De LaSalle, to the tune of 20 to 14. The flies suffered their second defeat at the avenging hands of St. Ignatius, 32 to 20. Staging a quick come-back they floored St. George a second time, 26 to 21. At this point the team hit a rough spot and lost the three remaining games of the season to St. Philip, Weber and De LaSalle.

The flies were also coached by Mr. Robert Liska, S.J., whose efforts met with evident success. High scorer for the flies was Wittingham. Dribble experts Conway, Huelscher, Fougousse, McCormick and McIntyre led the attack, backed up by Benzinger, Ducey and Wright.

SWIMMING

Under the expert coaching of Mr. Alex Wilson, the swimming team experienced a better than average season. They won five out of their ten meets and took second place in the City Catholic Championship Meet.

Ted Amberg, seasoned veteran of the paddlers, was elected Captain at the beginning of the season. First on the schedule, Niles Township High, fell easily to the Ramblers. Sullivan and Amundsen were also taken in stride. The two meets with Roosevelt both ended in victories for Loyola.

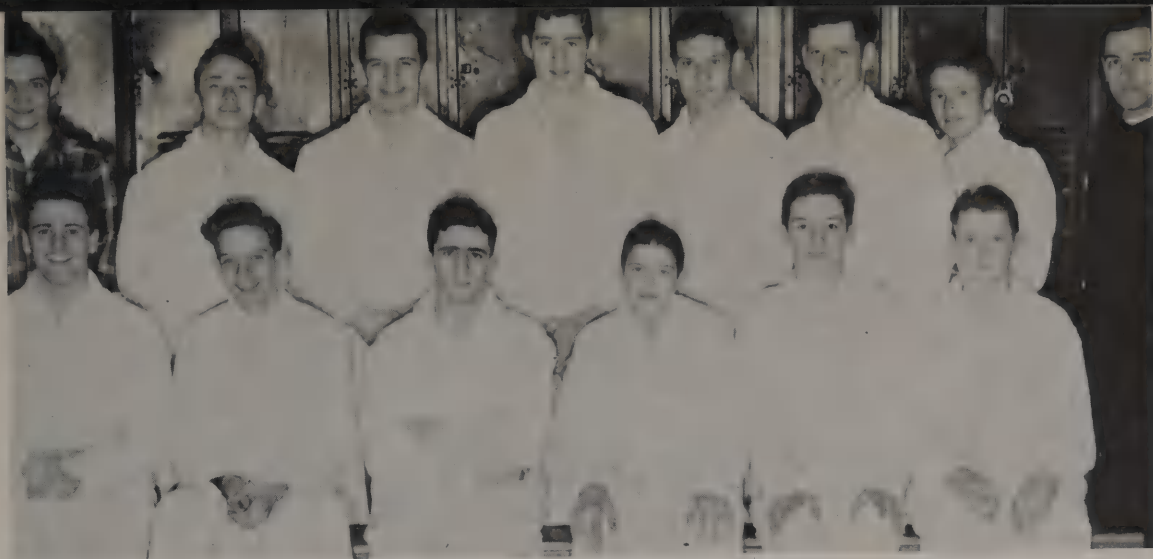

In a return engagement Niles Township upset the over-confident Loyolans. The Tilt with Senn was a close one, Loyola coming out on the short end of the decision. A powerful Evanston team thoroughly trounced the Ramblers. Fenwick, besides handing us defeats in both basketball and football, dealt the Loyola swimmers two defeats.

The most important event of the year, the City Catholic Swimming Meet, held at Fenwick on March 12, gave Loyola a place, second only to Fenwick. Captain Ted Amberg took the diving championship. Other members of the team, Luxem, Breen, J. Hayes, Deden, Schoeffel, J. Cummings and Baker all took places in the meet.

The future for the swimming team is certainly not disappointing. J. Hayes, R. Garrity, Deden and Luxem will be back, together with a promising group of sophomores and freshmen.

The job of manager was held by capable Tom McDermott.

 ● Seated—Gries, Brenwald, H. W. Sullivan (Captain), J. Fitzgerald, Hardin, Dempsey.

BOXING

Even though all other teams may flounder, Loyolans always know that they have a winner in the boxing team. It seems that the boys in the square circle from Loyola are invincible. The coaching honors again went to Jerry Hefernan who, because of other work, was able to give the team a workout only twice a week. He was very helpfully assisted by the Moderator of the Boxing Team, Mr. Keller, S.J. This year's captain was a man who finished his four years of fighting without a setback. Yes; Harry Sullivan.

Among the boxers there was Chris Fitzgerald, very interesting to watch. Who can forget his battles as he climbed to the North Side Novice Golden Gloves Championship! His record for this year is: no losses.

The boys started with flying gloves in their first meet, crushing Grant Community, 7-1. Next came a very close one with Morgan Park Military Academy, but we won, 4-3. Then a tough match with Morton which put us on the short side of a 5-4 count. In both of these last close meets the score was tied at the last bout, with the burden of victory or defeat falling on Willie Roche.

The team then traveled out to Culver Military Academy where Loyola dropped its first meet in three years to the Indiana Cadets, 3-6. The Cadets were tough; only Sullivan, Fitzgerald and Roche remained on the victory trail.

The pugilists then closed the season with another victory over Grant Community, 5-4.

Much credit for the success of the boxing team must go to "Little Fitz," Dick Keshen, Charlie Gries, Jim Quinn, Louis de Smet, LeRoy Cordell, Ed Hartmann, Tom Cummings, and James Brenwald.

This write-up would not be complete without many words of praise for Managers Clark Boughton and Ed Horner for their willing work and able seconding.

TRACK

This year's track team provides the strongest threat yet to unseat St. Ignatius as City Champ. Under the guidance of Coach Connelly, practice started in mid-February on the indoor track; but with warmer weather the thin clads moved outside.

Returning from last year's team were Walt Weber and Gene McNally, both of whom should collect points in the middle distances. Bill O'Brien and "Bam" Maloney head the list of sprinters and 220 men. Ray Bomhack, Ed Senini, and John Maginot are pacing the distances. Consistent high jumper is Johnny Hayes while Dan Heffernan looks good on the pole vault. Denny Cleary and Ken Lancaster show promise on the hurdles. The bigger boys, Jack Floto, Bill Bowman, and Jim Quinn, are heaving the shot with great results and their points are counted on.

The Junior Track Team is out for blood and more drive should easily win them the crown. Freshmen Ray Pohl and Bill Conway have remarkable speed. From the sophomore class comes a long list of hopefuls. Vern Lahart, Bill Roche, and Ray Flanagan should beat their last year's records in the 660 and $\frac{3}{4}$ mile. Jim Sweeny puts the shot. Sprintmen Jack Elster and Tom Ryan round out the list.

Besides running in the Chicago Relays, dual meets were scheduled with Culver, St. Ignatius, and St. Rita. The State Catholic Relays will be held May 7 at Loyola. The biggest events of the year, the Junior and Senior City Championships, will be held in the latter part of May. Loyola expects the best from the team in these meets.

TENNIS TEAM

The Loyola Tennis Team, with several of last year's members returning, has great hopes of capturing the Catholic League championship. The team began practice early in March. Although the weather did not permit outdoor practice, the team bivouacked in the handball courts until the middle of April. To help the team get in shape, Mr. Laurence Flynn S.J., the moderator, decided that the best way to attain tip-top physical condition would be for the members of the team to clean up the tennis courts and get them into playing shape for the coming season.

As soon as the weather permitted, meets with Fenwick, New Trier, and St. Ignatius were scheduled. Jim Kemper, John David, and Tom Gelderman were returning lettermen from last year. Newcomers to the squad this year were Don Ridley, Bob Reynolds, and Martin Henslee.

GOLF

At the time when copy for the printing of the Grad Prep was due at the printers, no plans had yet been made with regard to a golf team or an indoor team.

BASEBALL

Dan Heffernan, the man who put new life into
Intra-Murals

INTRA-MURALS

Intra-mural activities this year were more extensive and better handled than they have been for some time. Dan Heffernan of 4C deserves much of the credit for promoting these athletic interests.

Unfavorable weather prevented competition in softball, but a full touchball schedule was carried out. Rain prevented the final decision of fourth-year champs; in third year, 3X—undefeated, untied, and unscored upon—won the title; 2C took the Sophomore Division championship; and 1F came out on top of the other freshmen rooms.

The I-M Free Throw Contest was won by Jack David of 4C; who sank 19 out of a possible 25 shots. Dan O'Donnell, Jim Egan and Don Ridley tied for second place, having made 18 out of 25 throws.

4C took the I-M Junior-Senior basketball crown, while 2X beat 1D to gain supremacy in the Freshman-Sophomore division.

On March 24 a giant Intra-Mural Night was held under the direction of Mr. Connelly. Basketball teams, composed of all in the school who wished to play, were formed and took part in an elimination tournament, the finals of which were held on Intra-Mural night. John Maginot's team, in a double overtime, squeezed out a 26-24 victory over Dave Padden's team.

Freak relays between all the rooms in the school gave us many a laugh. Dick Dowdle of 4A won the I-M Heavyweight Boxing Championship. Nick Schnitzius did the best time in the rugged commando course.

Intra-mural track meets are being scheduled for later in April. The program will come to a close with a softball league later in the Spring.

IN APPRECIATION

At this point we should like to pause in order to express our sincere appreciation to those men who have generously cooperated with the Staff in the production of this 1944 Grad Prep.

Mr. Edward J. Bryan, of the Pantagraph Printing Company, gave us much of his time and valuable advice in order that we might have a worthwhile annual. He supervised the printing of the book.

The engraving work was done by Pontiac Engraving Company, under the direction of Mr. James Motherway.

Mr. Harold Beckett, of the Kingsport Press, assisted in choosing the material and executing the design of the cover.

The official photographer was Mr. Sidney Gordon.

Finally, we are sincerely grateful to the advertisers and the many patrons through whose help we were able to finance the publication of the Grad Prep.

September

With a light heart and unfaltering step, I once again approached the doors of Dumach Hall. On September 8, I registered and saw my whole summer's earnings dwindle away at the guileless smile of the Proprietor and his equally guileless assistants. . . . The new gives way to the old, even in teachers, for Father Willmes, former Assistant Principal, has been replaced by Father Francis B. Murphy from Cleveland. Father Willmes is now at the LU Press. Father John Mahoney of "Accelerati" has gone to India as a missionary. The Army got Father Lester Evett, former Student Counsellor. What? . . . No, of course he wasn't drafted. He's a Chaplain. Father Paul Cavanaugh is taking his place. Messrs. Charles Conroy and Robert Pollauf, S.J., are back at West Baden. Mr. Paulinus Forsthoefel, S.J., is at St. Xavier's High in Cincinnati. Mr. Leo Martin, S.J., is studying at Fordham University and Mr. Mark Finan, S.J., is at St. Ignatius High on the West side. . . . "Leo, mud and rain defeat the plucky Ramblers 20-0," quote the Prep. We beat Sullivan by a score of 28-6. Jim Quinn started the scoring and "Bam" Maloney finished it up with three touchdowns. We also took DePaul to task 26-12. Harry Sullivan executed a beautiful 80 (!) yard run for a touchdown. "Gallop Ghost" Kilkenny did the same thing—except for 6 (!) yards. This year was the biggest enrollment in the school's history. A total of 650!!!!

October

Did I say things were looking bright? In the field of football, they didn't look so well in the beginning. In our first league game, we were slightly dehydrated by St. Philip's, who beat us 20-0. And then we have the Weber game: 18-12, their favor. Just the sun came out, because we knocked our West Side foes (St. Ignatius) for a loop. Yeah man! 22-6. "Bam" Maloney did all the scoring—Whazzat, Quinn? Oh, did you make a touchdown too? Well, don't get so huffy about it; I'm putting it down. Then we really got on the ball when we beat St. Patrick's 22-0. Safety first! that gave us two points. Ken Sophie, "Bam" Maloney and Bill Roche did the rest. . . . Pez-zink de Bromo, pliz. Score 7-0; Date Oct. 31; Place: Loyola Stadium; Game: You guessed it! St. George. But after all, the CITY CHAMPS only beat us by a freak touchdown. . . . On the brighter side, we find that the Rostrum, in their first Open Forum Debate beat Alvernia. Tom Massion and Bill Sheehan carried the Affirmative ball. . . . Last year's GRAD PREP was given an All-Catholic Press rating. Good work. . . . In the Senior Class elections, Larry Hayes was elected President; Harry Sullivan, Vice-President; Gerard Vanden Branden, Secretary; and John "Ketchum and Killum" Luby, Treasurer.

November

Yassuh! Was ah in de groob. Dat deah Homecomin' Dance was sho' pow'ful fine. All dem fancy rug-cuttahs and bitterjugs. And, man! Can dat McIntyre onsombull toot a mean hoahn. Sho' nuff. . . . We bowed to Fenwick 6-0. 'Twasn't bad though. . . . Life certainly has its bright moments. We sheared the Senn Bulldogs on Thanksgiving morning 27-13. . . . Thanks be to God, it is Thanksgiving Day. . . . November 26 produced a topnotch vaudeville show. It was put on by the Fathers' Club who go out of their way to find the best talent. The treat of the affair was the fellow with his musical thingamabob. Wonder how long it took him to empty all the bottles. Specific gravity and all that you know, old chappy. . . . Yes sir, I can still see myself going up for class honors on November 22. Heigh-de-ho! (Well, I can dream, can't I?)

December

The part studies play in wartime: That's the tune December started out with; for on December 7, Pearl Harbor was not just a memory but an actuality to all of us in the form of the Jesuit Inter-Scholastic Latin Contest. Looking into the future, we see that Loyola placed two in the Latin Contest. They were Carl Merschel—who took seventh place, and Larry Hayes who won eighth. . . . And then there was the Providence Open-Forum Debate which Loyola scored a double victory. . . . Our basketball Heavies did pretty well, toppling St. Mel's by a score of 37-15, and St. Rita's 26-15. . . . Our paddlers dunked Niles Township when they emerged victorious in a meet with them by a total of 40 points to their 28. . . . The "Triple-Threat Jeep, Peep, and Grasshopper Campaign" ended to a triumphant note when we subscribed to more than $11,000 worth of bonds, placing us well above our quota. . . . Then came our "Frogskin Campaign," in which the noble Maguire Bowler made the rounds of the classes and netted $900.12 (12c in luxury tax). 3X led the way with $86, and 1A was not far behind with $85. The cans of culinary equipage showed the folks that 1A's heart was in the right place. On Dec. 22 and 23, a good number showed up to help pack and deliver the baskets. . . . And then—Christmas.

January

With nipped noses and sleepy looks we again entered the portals of Dumbach to begin the year '44. After a profitable Christmas vacation, the "fellas" were ready to pitch in and start worrying about the semester exams. . . . The Ramblers didn't do too well on the hardwood. We lost 3 out of 4 league games and 4 out of 5 non-league games. . . . Nevertheless, Captain Dan O'Donnell was chosen on the all-tournament Heavies in the St. George tourney, and an all tournament guard in the Fenwick Lights tourney. . . . A sad note was interjected at the death of the Rev. Joseph A. McLaughlin, S.J., a professor of Philosophy in the University. The entire student body attended the Mass of Requiem at St. Ignatius Church, R. I. P. . . . We see via the PREP that the "Senn Paddlers Dunk Loyola." Oh, well, it was probably a moral victory for our side. . . . The Fathers' Club sponsored a Father-Son Night, the highlight of which was an indoor baseball game between the Pops and their Progeny. If you want to see who won, consult the Prep (plug!). . . . The climax of the month was the Annual Retreat under the guidance of Fathers Ecman, S.J., and Burrill, S.J. This spiritual rejuvenation, the last high school one for many of us, paved the way for all of us with regard to our future vocation.

February

February bowed in with a nipping smile. Aside from the weather, it was a month well worth remembering. . . . It was in this month that the retreat ended. . . . As for basketball, there was weeping and gnashing of teeth; out of six games played, the Seniors and Juniors were victorious in only one! . . . The PREP was re-vitalized with the advent of a new staff, Chuck Rollings and Jack Jozwiak presiding. . . . The highlight of February took place on the twenty-first when, to the acrid smell of shoe-leather cigars and the green looks on both Dick Leach's and Dick McPartlin's faces, to the meandering drawl of "Kimber" Vanden Branden and to some mighty good acting on the part of John "He ought to be sprayed" Luby and Cliff "You can't Take It with You" Kennedy—the leads—the curtain went up on "George Washington Slept Here," a Hart-Kaufmann comedy. The show was staged at the Loyola Theatre where it played to a record audience. The show's unrivaled success was due to the hard work of Mr. Bert Walker, the director, and the cast. . . . Fact is the play was so successful that, to really celebrate, Mr. Frank Jenks went out next day and got married. . . . Also this month, for the first time in her history, Loyola graduated a mid-year class.

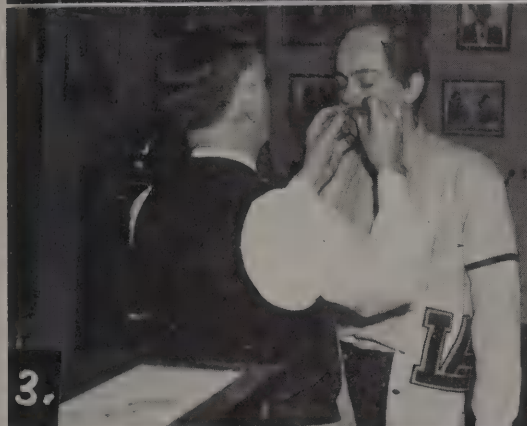

MARCH

There was certainly nothing resembling a lamb in the advent of this March. . . . It all started when the Heavies lost their final game of the season to St. George, 33-32. . . . By the looks of things, we should have a pretty good football team by next year, if the number that came out for spring training is any indication. . . . Turning to the "Schvimmers," we see that they took second place in the City meet held at Fenwick. Fenwick captured first. Ted Amberg won the "plain and fancy divin' contest." Another first was taken by the 200 yard relay team composed of Amberg, Breen, Hayes and Luxem. . . . Although we came out on top in the first War Bond Campaign, we certainly slacked in the second one. . . . Then there was the Chesterton Club raffle on St. Patrick's Day, in which Art Bilek won first prize. . . . One of the most interesting features was the Fathers' Club amateur night in which there were some really good talents shown by the students. Even I was in it. I pulled the curtain all of two times! . . . I suppose you thought I'd forget those V-12 exams. How could I? But on second thought, let's. . . . On Friday evening, March 24, the PREP sponsored the first annual "I-M Sports Night". A gala array of Basketball, Boxing, Handball, Table Tennis, and a demonstration of the Spring Football Obstacle Course formed a very enjoyable evening for all.

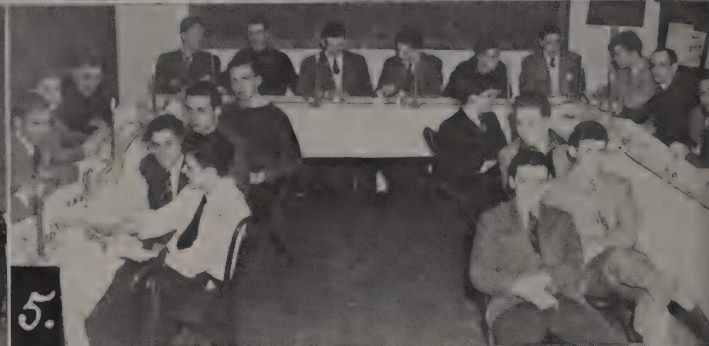

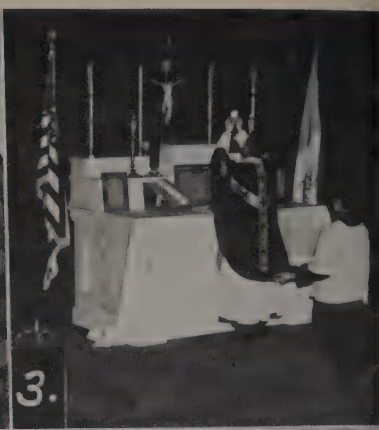

APRIL

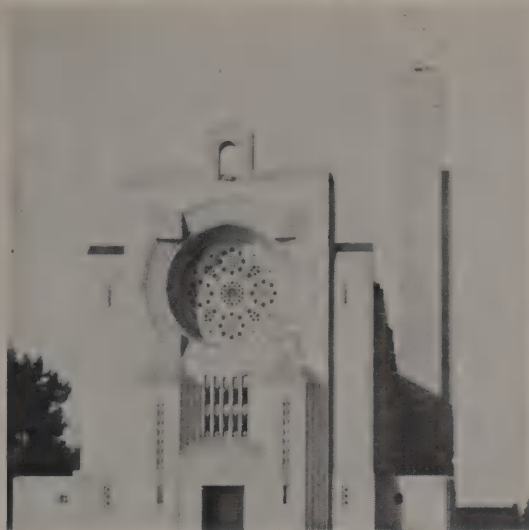

"April Showers," my eye. This was winter weather. . . . Of course I won't be able to put much down about April or the remaining months because of the early printing deadline of the GRAD PREP. . . . What I don't know you can fill in from your book of memories, or some such thing. . . . The Fathers' Club held their annual Day of Recollection, Sunday, April 2. It was conducted by Rev. Ralph Gallagher, S.J., noted sociologist of Loyola University. . . . On April 3, the Dads held an all-dads night in the gym. . . . The senior winners of the semi-finals for the oratorical contest were announced on April 5—Charley Gries, Dick Prindiville and Jerry Vanden Branden. They will appear in the finals on April 19. . . . Also on the fifth of April, Spring vacation loomed up. Practically a whole week of much needed relaxation. . . . The annual Scholarship Raffle started the middle of the month in preparation for the Mothers' Club Scholarship Party on May 5. . . . On the nineteenth of April the would-be Ciceros displayed their linguistic talents in the finals of the annual Oratorical Contest. . . . April 26: At nine of the night, Sonny Grey lowered his baton as the piano, saxes, trumpets and drums blended into the first dance of the evening. The Occasion? The Tulip Trot sponsored by the Torch Club. The proceeds went to Father James Mertz, S.J., for the Madonna Della Strada Chapel Fund.

We need another load of gravel; the chickens like to scratch in it.

MAY

'Tis the Month of Our Mother,
The blessed and Beautiful days

All hail to dear Mary,
The Guardian of our ways,
To the fairest of Queens
Be the fairest of seasons, sweet May.

The Month of Our Lady started off with the May devotions in which the whole school participates. They are held on Dumbach's front lawn. . . . Another Dads-Son meeting; this time it was not in the gymnasium, but in the Madonna Della Strada Chapel, for it was the Father-Son Communion Day, Sunday, May 5. After the Mass and Holy Communion, the Communion Breakfast was held in the Senior Lounge. . . . Ascension Thursday, May 18, gave us the holiday necessary to burn the midnight oil for the coming final examinations. . . . The horses are at the post ready to begin the exams. (Editor's note: Who are the horses, the teachers or the students?) Bang! May 22 and exams for the seniors. It won't be long now.

JUNE

At the devil's booth are all things sold,
Each ounce of dross costs its ounce of gold;
For a cap and bells our lives we pay,
Bubbles we buy with a whole soul's tasking:
'Tis Heaven alone that is given away,
'Tis only God may be had for the asking;
No price is set on the lavish summer;
June may be had by the poorest comer.
And what is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days.

Out of June 6 came the social hit-night of the year. Loyola went formal to the Senior Prom, a dinner-dance. . . . Out of June 8 came the day to which our four years of high school led. In summer formals we sat on the stage of the Loyola Community theatre waiting to hear our names and to receive our diploma. . . . Quod dixi, dixi; quod scripsi, scripsi; quod feci, feci. Our paths sever, but in the hearts of all of us will ever remain the fond memory of Loyola Academy, of the members of the Society of Jesus, and the knowledge that whatever we do and wherever we go, we will give our all, as we have been taught, to the greater glory of God. AD MAJOREM DEI GLORIAM!

PATRONS

TO THESE FAITHFUL FRIENDS, OUR PATRONS, who backed us in our efforts to present a Grad Prep worthy of them and of Loyola we express our deepest gratitude.

A Tribute

A TRIBUTE to the members of the Signal Corps, United States Army, for their great achievements in the field of military communications. On every front, from the development laboratory to the most remote outpost, they are doing their job superbly well.

Hallicrafters employees are proud of the part they are privileged to take in the design and production of radio equipment for the Signal Corps.

Promises of Our Lord to Souls Devout to His Sacred Heart:

I will give them all the graces necessary in their state of life.

I will establish peace in their homes.

I will comfort them in their afflictions.

I will be their secure refuge during life and above all in death.

I will bestow a large blessing upon all their undertakings.

Sinners shall find in My Heart the source and the infinite ocean of mercy.

Tepid souls shall grow more fervent.

Fervent souls shall quickly mount to high perfection.

I will bless every place where a picture of My Heart shall be set up and honored.

I will give to priests the gift of touching the most hardened hearts.

Those who shall promote this devotion shall have their names written in My Heart never to be blotted out.

I promise thee in the excessive mercy of My Heart that my all-powerful love will grant to all those who communicate on the first Friday in nine consecutive months the grace of final perseverance; they shall not die in My disgrace nor without receiving their sacraments; My Divine Heart shall be their safe refuge in this last moment.
